

Eduardo Lopes Alberto
CEO Trow Nutrition
Member Nutreco Management Board

Eduardo has served as CEO of Trow Nutrition, Nutreco's livestock feed business line, and member of the Nutreco Management Board since June 2024. He first joined Nutreco in January 2024, as VP of Global Innovation and Research at Trow Nutrition.

Before joining Nutreco, Eduardo worked for seven years at DSM Firmenich, as VP Global Innovation and, before that, as VP of the company's North America region at the Animal Nutrition and Health division. Prior to DSM, he spent 16 years at Elanco Animal Health and five years at Merck & Co. (MSD), with diverse global roles in marketing, sales and R&D and managing business operations in the U.S., Asia and Latin America.

Eduardo has a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from the Universidade Estadual Paulista in Brazil, holds an MBA from the University of São Paulo and graduated from Harvard Business School's General Management Program.

"I'm delighted to have the opportunity to lead Trow Nutrition and this passionate team as we continue to deliver on our ambition for the company's next phase of growth and our promise of Feeding the Future."

– Eduardo Lopes Alberto